You'll find it all in Downtown Seattle. FOR ENTERTAINMENT... Night club entertainment, fine first-run motion picture theatres, and at the Seattle Center everything from major league sports to opera. FOR DINING... Typical of major seaport cities, Downtown restaurants feature foods of many lands: Italian, Spanish, Irish, Danish, Norwegian, German, Polynesian, Oriental, and of course, outstanding seafood and American style dining.

VISIT THE DOWNTOWN INFORMATION CENTER for information on the Central Business District and the entire Pacific Northwest. Located on Pine Street at the Monorail entrance (refer to your "Downtown Seattle—Guide to the Friendly City").

Chester A. Hogan

Imperial Potentate

1968-1969

CHESTER A. HOGAN was born in Tacoma, Washington, in what is known as the Puget Sound heartland of the dynamic Pacific Northwest. Fastest-growing area in the nation today, the Imperial Sir's homeland is the portal to the East, a keystone of Shrinedom, and a giant in aviation, science, culture and commerce.

Look to the West—Imperial Potentate Chester A. Hogan started at the bottom in his chosen field. His leadership and organizational abilities are without question, for today he is the executive director and owner of a chain of supermarkets in the Pacific Northwest, as well as being extremely active in varied business enterprises engaged in property development.

Civic Leader—Business leaders and his neighbors admire and respect his integrity, judgment and progressive ideas. He is a director of the Puget Sound National Bank, Tacoma; Past President and a director for thirty-two years of the non-profit Western Washington Fair of Puyallup; a member of the Board of Governors of the Lutheran Welfare Foundation; one of the ten founders of the Good Samaritan Hospital, Puyallup; Past President of the Puyallup Kiwanis Club; Past President and former director of the state-wide Associated Grocers, Inc. of Seattle.

Fraternal Leader—Achievement has followed him in every field, particularly in his Masonic life. Since being raised in Corinthian Lodge No. 38, Puyallup, Washington, he has progressed rapidly. Today he is the Worshipful Master of his Lodge, Corinthian No. 38, F. & A.M. He received his 33rd degree in Washington, D.C., and the Honorary DeMolay Legion of Honor degree in March, 1968. His "Who's Who" of Masonry includes Past Commander of Ivanhoe Commandery No. 4, Tacoma; Past High Priest, Tacoma Chapter No. 4; Past Grand High Priest of Royal Arch Masons of Washington State, a member of Tacoma Council No. 1; a member of the Royal Order of Scotland; St. Alban Conclave, the Red Cross of Constantine, and is a Past Sovereign Master of Allied Masonic Degrees, Pacific Council No. 30, Tacoma; Past Impresario and Past Director, Tacoma Court No. 104, Royal Order of Jesters.

Energetic Noble—Imperial Sir Chester A. Hogan originated Afifi Temple's annual Shrine Circus in 1946 and served eleven years as chairman until he was elected Potentate in 1957. As Potentate he headed Afifi's memorable pilgrimage to the Orient in 1957, receiving dispensation to hold four ceremonials, Manila, Philippines, Hong Kong, Taiwan, Formosa, and Tokyo, Japan, bringing into the Shrine 209 new Nobles. He was host Potentate to the Pacific Northwest Shrine Association. He is also a member of the Cabiri.

The Man From the West Honored—When he was elected Imperial Outer Guard in Atlantic City in 1959 he became the first Shriner from the Far West to be so honored since 1939. He is an Honorary Life member of 148 Temples and holds numerous Honorary Shrine Club memberships throughout the United States, the Orient, Canada, Mexico and Europe.

Family Man—His family consists of his wife, Helen, their twin sons, Charles and Carl, and four grandchildren. The sons, who are Nobles of Afifi Temple, are graduates of the University of Washington and are actively associated with him in his varied business enterprises. All the Hogans are members of the Lutheran Church.

Aurie J. Thompson

Director-General

Imperial Session

A. A. O. N. M. S.

Seattle, 1969

On the shoulders of Aurie J. Thompson has fallen the mantle of responsibility as Director General of the 1969 Imperial Session of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine of North America.

But the mantle rests easily on this man who has had many years of experience in serving his community, his Temple and his industry.

Director-General Thompson served as Potentate of Nile Temple, Seattle, in 1963. He was Master of Montlake Lodge No. 278, F.&A.M. in 1945, a member of Scottish Rite bodies-KCCH; past Wise Master, Seattle Chapter, Rose Croix; a member of the York Rite bodies; Royal Order of Jester, Red Cross of Constantine, Royal Order of Scotland and the Ballard Elks Lodge No. 827.

He has also been extremely active in his business affiliations and currently is president of Piston Service, Inc. and H. D. Engines and Equipment.

He is a past president of the Washington Automotive Wholesalers Assn.; past president, Motor Equipment Wholesalers Assn., Chicago; an incorporator of Automotive Service Industries Assn., Chicago; a past president and member of the Pacific Automotive Show, Los Angeles, and a director in Automotive Engine Rebuilders Assn.

Director-General Thompson is married, has one son and two grandchildren. His hobbies are boating and golf.

STATE OF WASHINGTON
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
OLYMPIA

DANIEL J. EVANS
GOVERNOR

The State of Washington bids a most cordial welcome to the 1969 Imperial Council Session of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine of North America.

The pageantry, ritual, patriotism and fellowship which mark a great Shrine convention will be an unforgetable experience to our citizens.

But none of this will overshadow our awareness of the wonderful work made possible by Shrine generosity in behalf of handicapped youngsters through the Shriners' hospitals for crippled children, America 's most magnificent private philanthropy.

This great convention has added significance for our state since Chester A. Hogan, Puyallup, now holds Shrinedom's highest office, that of Imperial Potentate.

To officers of the Imperial Divan, to Nobles and their Ladies from through out North America, we extend a warm greeting.

Sincerely,

Daniel J. Evans
Governor

United States Senate
WASHINGTON, D.C.

May 20, 1969

As a United States Senator from Washington and a fellow member of the Shrine, I am most pleased to extend warmest greetings to the 95th Imperial Council for its Seattle convention.

The Shrine convention is one of the nation's great gatherings, and we of the State of Washington are proud and honored to welcome you.

You are visiting a magnificent section of America. It is an area of overwhelming scenic beauty, of record population increases, of mild climate, of industrial growth and of unsurpassed recreational opportunities.

This is not just a place to visit -- but a place for living.

My best wishes to you all.

Sincerely yours,

Henry M. Jackson, U. S. S.

GREETINGS --------- FROM THE WEST

There is an old adage which says that "THE THIRD TIME IS A CHARM". I have not researched many old proverbs but I can assure all of you Shrine visitors to the Great Pacific Northwest we are displaying all of our charm for each and every one of you as we did in 1915, 1936 and now in 1969. As your host Temple along with AFIFI and EL KATIF as co-hosts there is not a soul in the State of Washington who is not aware of your being here with us. We hope your journey to and from has been and will be most pleasant whether by air, land or sea. We also hope your short stay with us will be most fruitful and rewarding with all of the fun, pageantry and the serious business of an Imperial Session which is necessary to keep this great organization moving and growing. Our great city is yours for a few days, enjoy it and learn to "SMILE WITH NILE".

WELCOME TO THE EVERGREEN STATE:

Afifi Temple is proud to have one of its members, Chester A. Hogan, as Imperial Potentate. We are indeed fortunate that he had the foresight to select the great Pacific Northwest as the site for the 95th Imperial Council Session. There have been two previous Sessions held in Seattle; one in 1915 and the other in 1936.

We of Afifi Temple join with Nile Temple as hosts for this years Imperial Session, and cordially invite you to enjoy the many attractions here in our State of Washington. Our locale is noted for beautiful homes, cultural activities, and magnificent parks. Located in the Pacific Northwest recreation area, our area is world-famous for fresh and salt water boating, fishing and skiing. Washington State abounds in lakes, streams and forests. Mild climate provides year-round golf. Nature is resplendent from the 14,410 peak of Mt. Rainier to the blue waters of Puget Sound.

Nobles of Afifi and Nile desire that your visit be memorable and enjoyable. We trust that you and your families will return to the Evergreen State many more times in your vacation travels.

Dear Nobles:

We, like the members of Nile and Afifi Temples are proud that our own Imperial Potentate Chester A. Hogan has seen fit to select the City of Seattle and the great State of Washington as the location for the 95th annual convention of the Imperial Council for the Shrine of North America.

On behalf of all the Shriners of El Katif Temple in Spokane and the Inland Empire, I am happy to extend a most warm and friendly welcome to all the Nobility and their families.

As co-host with our sister Temples of Washington, we sincerely hope that you will have a marvelous time, that your stay will be most interesting and that you will enjoy all the pleasures of the wonderful Northwest.

We hope that your time will permit you to visit Spokane, the home of El Katif Temple, before you depart from our state. You will find it a place of interest and beauty, with the friendliest people in the world.

IMPERIAL COUNCIL SESSION
ANCIENT ARABIC ORDER OF NOBLES
OF MYSTIC SHRINE OF NORTH AMERICA

GREETINGS:

Welcome as guest and welcome as brother Shriner. It is my dual honor to greet you both as Mayor of the City of Seattle and as a member of Nile Temple, and extend to you Seattle's heartiest wishes for a pleasant and successful visit.

It is a matter of great personal pride that I am identified with Masonry which is not just a theory but a way of living. The measureable, visible contribution of the Shrine through its chosen field of providing hospitals for children is a living expression of the brotherhood of Masonry and love for all mankind.

To the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, all honor to you. May the Imperial Council Session advance the lofty aims of Shrinedom and your visit to Seattle be a pinnacle in your illustrious history.

Sincerely,

Floyd C. Miller

Delegates and Guests
1969 Imperial Shrine Council Session

Greetings:

I am delighted to join with the Mayors of Seattle and Tacoma in welcoming the Shriners to the State of Washington. The humanitarian work at the Crippled Children's Hospital in Spokane makes the Shriners one of the most admired and respected organizations in our community.

Spokane is proud to co-host this convention and it is our hope that, while in the Pacific Northwest, you will visit Spokane, the hub of the vast Inland Empire. With an abundance of nearby lakes, excellent golf courses, fine hotels and restaurants, our city is a paradise for vacationers. We are sufficiently large to afford the advantages of a cosmopolitan city yet small enough to retain a friendly atmosphere and good family living.

Please accept my best wishes for a memorable and rewarding convention.

Delegates to the Imperial Session of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine for North America and their Ladies Puyallup, the home city of Imperial Potentate Chester A. Hogan and Mrs. Hogan, welcomes you!

As Mayor of the City of Puyallup, it is indeed my pleasure to welcome you to the Pacific Northwest, the Puget Sound area, and in particular, to the City of Puyallup situated on the bank of the Puyallup River in the midst of the beautiful Puyallup Valley. We are but a very few miles south of the City of Seattle, your Host city, and would be most happy to see that you are escorted around our Fair city and the surrounding area.

Since Puyallup is the home city of Imperial Potentate Chester A. Hogan and Mrs. Hogan, it is doubly our pleasure to welcome you to the Puget Sound area, and hope your visit will be a most pleasant one. Many items of interest will be available for you to see. I trust you will find the Imperial Session interesting, informative and fun!

If there is any information we can give you, or help in any way, our services are here for the asking.

A most hearty welcome to all Nobles and their families!

A SHRINER'S GUIDE TO SEATTLE:

The 'See' Around Us!

Monorail leaves Space Needle and Seattle Center for downtown.

For openers, start your Seattle adventure with a lift—swift ascent by elevator to the 600-foot-high vantage point of the Space Needle observation deck.

Aboard your platform in the sky, stroll full circle, swinging your gaze along the horizon lines. You'll enjoy panoramic views that will start you humming "On a Clear Day, You Can See Forever."

What's to see from the Space Needle?

Look below. Metropolitan Seattle's limits are mostly blue water . . . tidal salt water to the west, stream-fed lakes to the east.

Big water to the west is Puget Sound, indented by Elliott Bay, Seattle's busy harbor with its jutting piers. Ferry boats shuttle and ocean-going vessels course to and from this port-of-call along the 125 nautical miles of straits and waterways which connect to the broad Pacific.

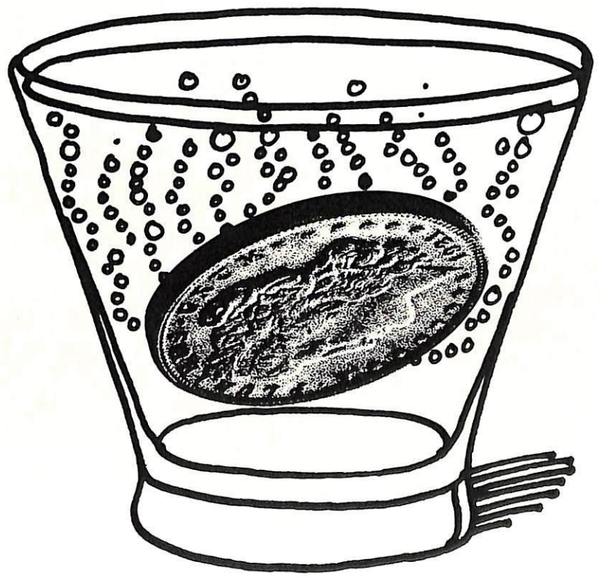
Fast, effective relief for loneliness.



You can call anywhere in the United States, except Alaska or Hawaii, and talk for three minutes for a dollar every weekday after 7 p.m. and all weekend long.

The 'See' Around Us!

Across the Sound on islands and peninsulas ferry-boat commuters dwell happily. Beyond, the craggy Olympic Mountain range thrusts skyward.

Seattle is a site to behold, with a sound to match.

The sound is island-dotted Puget Sound, 95 miles long, lapping the shores of more than 2,000 miles of coastline.

Statue of city's "founder," Chief Seattle

From the tidal margin of this superb inland sea, the hills of Seattle rise to their crests, then slope eastward to freshwater lakes. Here on the hilly terrain between sea and lakes rise the towers, factories, terminals, warehouses, shops and homes of Seattle —all within sight of forest-clad snow-capped peaks.

To the east lies 32-mile Lake Washington, spanned by two floating bridges. Beyond the Cascade Mountains rise. The sentinel peak of Mount Rainier looms 14,410 feet above sea level, just 90 miles southward. To the north, Mount Baker towers more than 10,000 feet.

Cross-town ship canal north of city center links Puget Sound and Lake Washington. Huge locks lower and lift vessels from salt to fresh water levels. Between is Lake Union, a fresh water harbor.

The Duwamish River, itself a port, flows through the south-of-town industrial district and into Elliott Bay.

Hour-glass shaped, between Sound and lake, Seattle is about 17 miles long, north to south; about three miles wide at the narrow waist, east to west.

Seattle is full of nice little surprises.

Take us, for example.

You'd probably expect one of the nation's leading jacket manufacturers to be located in some huge fashion capital like New York.

But here we are.

We started in Seattle in 1946, making just 5 dozen jackets a day. Today it's 500 dozen. We've become the largest manufacturer of jackets west of the Mississippi. Our jackets are sold in nearly all the states in the union . . . probably in your hometown.

Well, anyway. Welcome to our home.

It's a great city.

Nice thing about any General Motors car. You know exactly what you're getting into.

From the moment you get into the Fisher Body, you know how luxurious traveling can be. Because Fisher Body gives your GM car a look of beauty, a strong steel body, as well as many convenience options such as power seats and windows. That's why so much of the buy is in the body. And Body by Fisher makes GM cars a better buy. Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick, Cadillac.

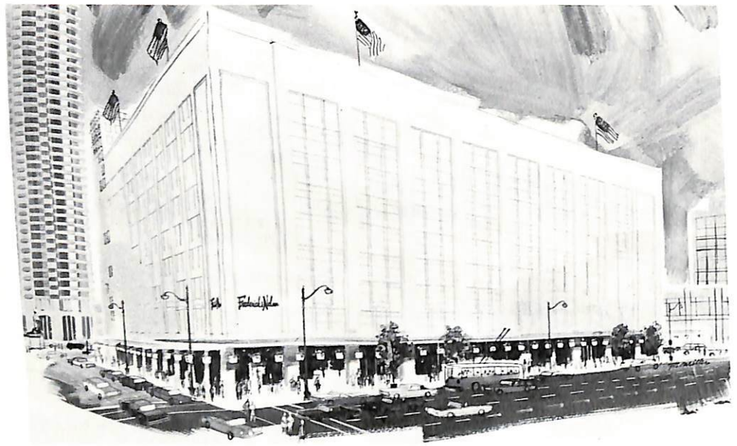
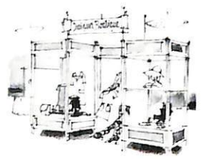
YOU'LL ENJOY VISITING FREDERICK & NELSON



One of America's most beautiful department stores

Conveniently situated in downtown Seattle, Frederick & Nelson, a division of Marshall Field & Co. of Chicago, is both a landmark and a show place. Ten attractive floors stocked with fine merchandise make it a shopping mecca for residents of the Greater Seattle area and for out-of-town visitors. Here you will find the latest fashions; a complete, up-to-the-minute Men's Shop; varied gifts for the family and friends; a book about the Northwest; delicacies and choice wine for an impromptu picnic; a new camera or film for your old one—in fact, just about everything you would expect from a great, metropolitan department store.



International and American fashions featured in Seattle

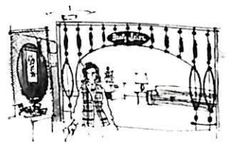
The fashion floors at Frederick & Nelson can provide a memorable shopping excursion for every woman. The great names of Europe such as Dior, Givenchy, Yves Saint Laurent, Pucci and others are represented here, as are many of this country's leading fashion designers. Of special interest is the Designer Boutique on the third floor, a charming shop that presents a melange of vivacious new fashions and accessories. In other departments on the second and third floors you can shop for everything from casual and sports wear to furs and fashions for the most gala evening. Such specialized departments as the Tall Shop and Mrs. Fredson Shop, which carries women's and half sizes, also are of interest. Accessories, ranging from hosiery to fine jewelry, are found on the first floor. Whether you have time for only a hurried visit or can spend a day shopping leisurely, you will enjoy a world of fashion at Frederick & Nelson.

Men also find much of interest in this remarkable store

Perhaps you forgot to pack a comfortable pair of slippers. Or you would like a handsome new tie, a sports shirt for leisure hours, some more handkerchiefs, or a new pair of shoes. Or maybe you would like to add a superb Oxxford suit to your wardrobe. Whatever your clothing or furnishings needs, the Men's Shop on the first floor is your destination. If you enjoy a good cigar or are running low on pipe tobacco, visit the Smoke Shop on the first floor. The Sport Shop on the fourth floor can help you with equipment and advice if you are planning some fresh or salt water fishing while you are in the Pacific Northwest. One final thought—wives always appreciate flowers. The Flower Shop is on the first floor and will deliver anywhere in Seattle.

Beauty shop offers full range of services by 50 operators

Feminine visitors to Frederick & Nelson are always pleasantly surprised by the Beauty Salon on the fifth floor. It is one of the largest and finest on the West Coast with over 50 skilled operators to handle every beauty need. The Beauty Salon is open from 9:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday, and from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. on Monday. You can call MA 3-5033 for an appointment or drop in.



Dining is a pleasure when you visit Frederick & Nelson

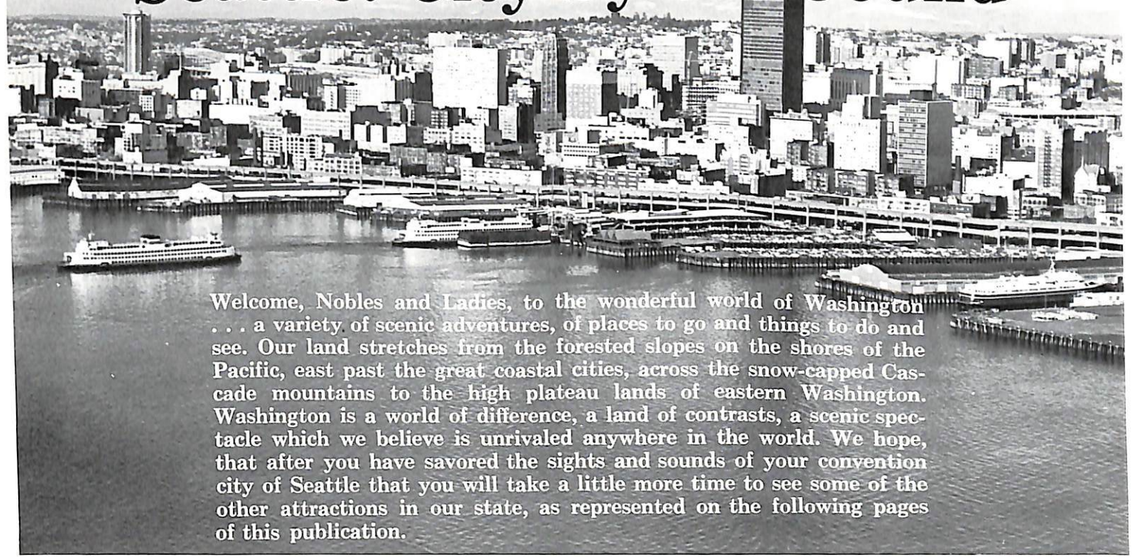
Fine food and courteous personal service make your luncheon or Monday evening dinner a real treat, and a refreshing ice cream soda or other fountain specialty is a pleasant way to interrupt a busy schedule. The Tea Room on the eighth floor offers a complete menu, excellent service, and relaxed atmosphere. If you are in a bit of a hurry, the Continental Buffet, in the same area, provides quick, walk-through serving. The Men's Grill, also on the eighth floor, is a "men only" sanctum with a male-oriented menu. Fountain and counter service is available in the Paul Bunyan Kitchen on the Budget Floor, located downstairs.

Three big, modern suburban stores are also at your service

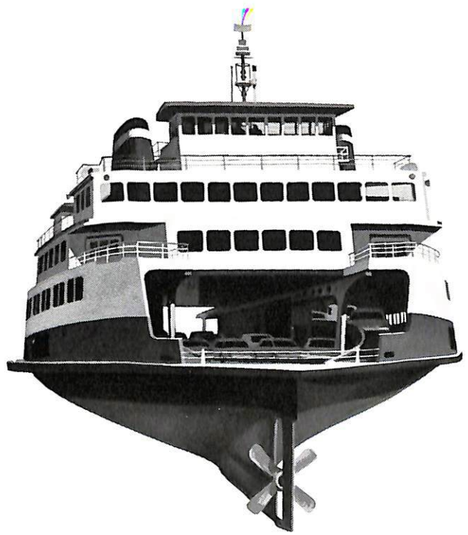
In addition to the downtown store at Fifth and Pine in Seattle, Frederick & Nelson has three attractive suburban stores at Bellevue, Aurora Village, and Southcenter. Though necessarily smaller than the downtown store, they provide much of the same fine merchandise and services. Shopping hours are somewhat different: 10 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Saturday in suburban stores; 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and 9:30 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. Monday in the downtown store.

A SHRINER'S GUIDE TO A SWINGING GATEWAY:

Seattle: City-by-the-Sound



Welcome, Nobles and Ladies, to the wonderful world of Washington . . . a variety of scenic adventures, of places to go and things to do and see. Our land stretches from the forested slopes on the shores of the Pacific, east past the great coastal cities, across the snow-capped Cascade mountains to the high plateau lands of eastern Washington. Washington is a world of difference, a land of contrasts, a scenic spectacle which we believe is unrivaled anywhere in the world. We hope, that after you have savored the sights and sounds of your convention city of Seattle that you will take a little more time to see some of the other attractions in our state, as represented on the following pages of this publication.



Welcome aboard, Shriners.

Cast off with us from the Seattle Ferry Terminal at the foot of Marion Street, just a few blocks from downtown. Take your car or walk aboard. We leave approximately every half hour. An interesting water trip can be made in only a couple of hours. Ask for our free scenic guide at your hotel or motel. Then, cut loose for the most beautiful Sound in the world—on a Washington State Ferry.

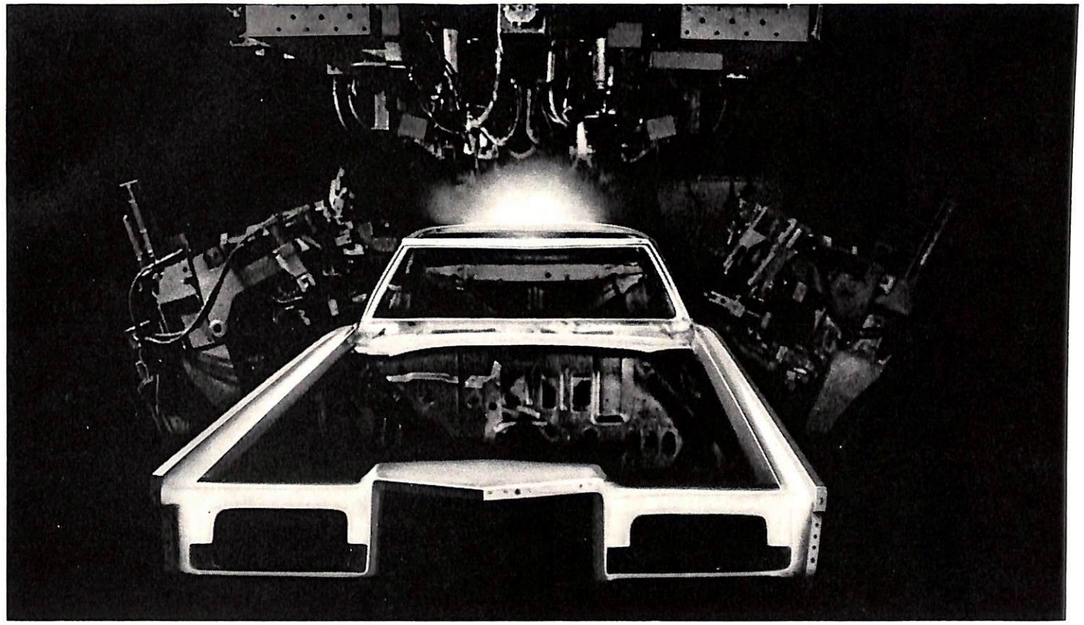
We feed cars to the monster



It's Ford Motor Company's better idea to make car bodies stronger, quieter, and more durable.

The Monster is our name for the Pivoting Pillar Body Welder.

The Magic Doorgate, on this 1969 Ford Country Squire, opens like a door with the window up, and is even better because it comes on a strong, silent body.

It's a strange looking device that completely encircles most of our big Fords as well as every Lincoln Continental, Thunderbird, and Continental Mark III. Then it clamps down on them and automatically makes 200 critical welds in a single operation. All in perfect alignment. With a precision no hand welding can ever hope to match.

The Monster is a Ford Motor Company exclusive. A better idea you may not have known was there.

But it's there because the people at Ford Motor Company respect the fact that when you invest in any car of ours, you have the right to expect more than good looks.

So, when you go out to buy a new car, remember...

Better ideas help Ford Motor Company build cars stronger.

Ford

. . . has a better idea

COVERING THE WATERFRONT

There's a lot to see and enjoy in Seattle.

One way to find out is to take a poll. Just ask at random ten "friendly native" Seattleites what three things you shouldn't miss as a visitor to town and you'll probably get thirty different answers.

And all the answers will be right!

You know about the Space Needle, the Monorail and all the new era splendors of the Seattle Center, legacies of the 1962 World's Fair. These are yours to enjoy as a rendezvous of your convention.

But, in a manner of speaking, all these attractions and facilities are frosting on the original Seattle cake.

Seattle was born and grew up as a waterfront town. Thus it is that scores of her most cherished and rewarding points of interest still tie to the sea. Her huge maritime Port sprawls crescent-shaped from Magnolia Bluff to Alki Point with corridors up the Duwamish River and along the Ship Canal.

Seattle's waterfront—unlike that of

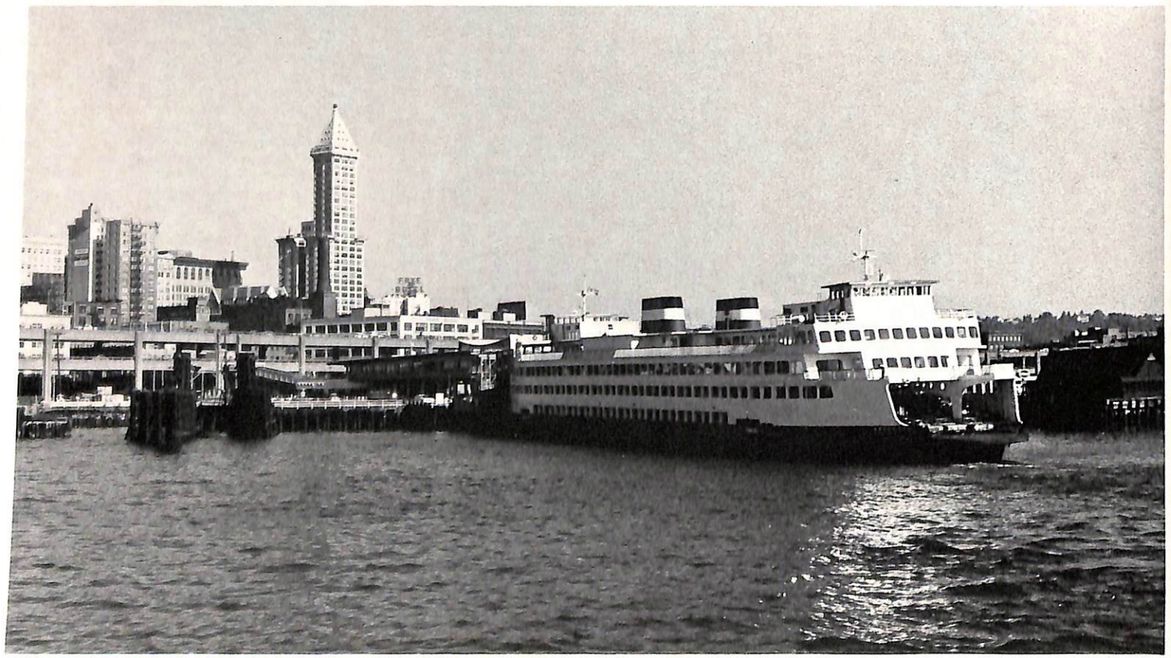
Masts of freighter in Seattle's working harbor frames the Space Needle at nearby Seattle Center.



Laden with happy sightseers and commuters, one of Washington's new state ferries leaves its down pier for another trip on the famed "saltwater highway."

It puts into words
what we put into cars.

some maritime cities—operates for both fun and profit.

For an afternoon's adventure on the "fun" waterfront, pick your companions for an expedition by taxi-cab or afoot to Seattle's "Saltwater Strip."

Take a bearing on the Washington State Ferry Terminal (foot of Marion Street) for your directions. From there explore the piers north and south for salty atmosphere and a myriad of choices in shopping, eating, sights and sounds.

Here in the space of a few blocks your senses come alive to the feel and pulse of maritime Seattle.

You will stroll past dockside fish markets, displaying on beds of ice—salmon and halibut, sole and smelt, clams, oysters, crabs and shrimp—all the bounty of Puget Sound and Pacific waters.

You will watch ships under foreign flags unload and take aboard the cargoes of world commerce.

You can dine, snack, or imbibe at colorful waterfront restaurants, serving seafood specialties or exotic Polynesian foods. Don't neglect to browse and buy in shops displaying native Indian art and souvenirs, marine supply houses and exotic bazaars featuring gifts and imports from the workshops of all the world.

Don't forget to pause on dockside to watch the Puget Sound ferryboats plying the Bay. Take time to visit the fireboats, moored at-the-ready to respond to alarms or take a ferry to Blake Island Indian Village.

Besides, you'll meet a lot of "Friendly Native" Seattleites here on the waterfront. Here's where Seattle's uptown professional, financial, mercantile men come to ease their tensions and to mingle with the visitors, families, groups, and off-shift plant and office workers who together create the festive feeling of Seattle's Saltwater Strip.

For here, out on the blue bay, the ferryboats shuttle, tug whistles toot, seagulls wheel and cry as ships from many nations cross and re-cross the deep water. There's always a fresh breeze here, the tang of salt air, the promise and mystery of faraway ports and places. All these are yours on the Seattle waterfront to see and savor.

Sightseeing Seattle's harbor is a favorite activity of visitors to Seattle "saltwater strip."

Along Seattle's waterfront, it's a saltwater "carnival" for visitors shopping imports from around the globe.

GETTING WITH IT DOWNTOWN

Up to now, you have been moving about at a leisurely pace—sightseeing, strolling, chatting, snacking as you go.

But your steps quicken as you start to walk about in downtown Seattle. For Seattle is an up-tempo town moving to the rhythms of air hammers and rivet guns as builders push new towers toward the sky.

When you're in downtown Seattle, you're where it's happening.

Eighty thousand Seattleites work in downtown Seattle. One hundred and eighty thousand persons come downtown on business, for shopping and just for excitement every day. For downtown Seattle is several things. It's a showcase and a showplace. It's the headquarters city of the Pacific Northwest . . . and a "Swinging Gateway" to travel adventure throughout the Pacific Northwest and the Seven Seas.

Take a swing through downtown Seattle in the most rewarding way, a walking tour. A good place to start your walk is at the Westlake Mall, midtown terminus of the monorail which links downtown to the Seattle Center.

What experiences await you in downtown Seattle:

SHOPPING. Wares from around the world are offered at market stalls, along the elegant aisles of high-style shops and department stores, in Oriental bazaars, or at a wide choice of specialty stores. Downtown Seattle is the largest (450 stores) shopping center in America Northwest. You'll find fashion apparel and imported gift ware along tree-lined Fifth Ave. near Pine St.; souvenirs in hotel shops and department stores. There's a special shopping treat you shouldn't miss. It's PIKE PLACE MARKET, a series of roofed over open-air sidewalk stalls between Stewart and Pine Sts., west of First Ave. Truck gardeners and hawkers cry their wares. Here you'll find colorfully arranged fruits, vegetables, flowers, seafoods, foreign delicacies, etc. Also antique stores, handicraft shops, art galleries and inexpensive restaurants with some of the most picturesque views of the harbor.

DINING. Like other famous gateway cities of the world, Seattle has established a reputation for dining excellence. Its menus run the gamut of international cuisines presented in an almost endless variety of atmospheres. There are restaurants in basements and hotel penthouses, in alleys and in old mansions, on boats and piers. There are self-service cafeterias, outdoors cafes, pool-side buffets and sophisticated formal dining rooms.

ENTERTAINMENT. When you talk about Seattle being a "Swinging Gateway" city, this is how it swings. Over 300 entertainment spots present live music, including floor shows, dinner dancing and lounge shows. Little bistros offer everything from top-name jazz stars to young folk singers and comedians. Major hotels, restaurants and supper clubs have entertainment ranging from piano bar soloists to lavish production numbers. Downtown theaters book plays, musicals and stage shows and film houses schedule first-run U.S. and foreign films.

Model of $50 million World Trade Center to be constructed on the Seattle waterfront.

LOOKING AROUND

Experienced sightseers agree. The best way to cover an area's points-of-interest on the first go-around is aboard a professionally conducted bus excursion or by chauffeured tour.

For visitors and conventioneers who prefer to sightsee on their own Seattle has mapped out 112 miles of scenic drives, known as the Trident Tours and marked with distinctive scenic drive signs.

TRIDENT TOUR No. 1. From downtown Seattle to Woodland Park Zoo and Green Lake, then out through northern part of city to Carkeek Park on Puget Sound and to Golden Gardens Park adjoining Shilshole Bay Marina with berths for over 1,000 pleasure boats. Then to Chittenden Locks, connecting Seattle's fresh water lakes to Puget Sound and to Magnolia Bluff and Queen Anne Hill with superb views of the Seattle Harbor. Finally, a drive down Alaskan Way along Seattle's spectacular and picturesque waterfront.

TRIDENT TOUR No. 2. Up to Capitol Hill, then across the ship canal to the University of Washington for a drive through the campus and its park-like grounds. From here the route takes you through several of Seattle's pleasant residential neighborhoods, including Laurelhurst, Windermere, Hawthorne Hills and View Ridge. Again, westward through other attractive homes and gardens to the shores of Green Lake and back via Aurora Avenue and the Aurora Bridge.

TRIDENT TOUR No. 3. To the Mount Baker District, then to Beacon Hill with its view of Boeing Field. Thence to Seward Park and the location of the Gold Cup hydroplane race course. The drive then follows north on Lake Washington Boulevard, winding along the western shore of Lake Washington to the University of Washington Arboretum with hundreds of acres of rare trees and shrubs plus an authentic Japanese Tea Garden. Then to Volunteer Park on Capitol Hill for a visit to the Seattle Art Museum and for breath-taking vistas of the Seattle downtown area.

TRIDENT TOUR No. 4. Past Seattle's booming industrial waterfront, across Harbor Island to West Seattle and Hamilton View Park for a spectacular view of the Seattle Harbor. Around Duwamish Head and along Beach Drive to Lincoln Park, then the Fauntleroy District, then back up the ridge to the High Point neighborhood. Finally, through the Duwamish Valley, up Beacon Hill and back to downtown Seattle.

Group Restoring Old Vessels

The sea and ships have been much a part of Seattle's past . . . and now Seattle is taking steps to preserve its heritage through the restoration of old vessels which once rode at anchor in this busy harbor.

An organization, "Save Our Ships" has acquired a 165-foot codfishing and lumber schooner, the Wawona, the only remaining sailing vessel not yet incorporated into a maritime museum. The vessel now is being restored with new masts, rigging and other improvements.

S.O.S. also has acquired the old steam-driven lightship, Relief which has been completely renovated and is now open for visits on the Seattle waterfront.

When both of these ships have been restored they will be open to the public and to school children as an historical evidence of the city's great maritime heritage.

DECEPTION PASS

Underneath Deception Pass bridge, through the narrow, high-walled gorge of the pass, millions of gallons of water spill into Rosario Strait at ebb tide.

On either bank, the two-island, two-county Deception Pass State Park beckons vacationers to sandy beaches, rocky coves, forests and lakes. The bridge links Fidalgo (north) and Whidbey (south) islands, Island and Skagit counties, and ties together the halves of the state park.

Pass Island, the cone-shaped rock pier which divides the channel into Canoe Pass and the wider Deception Pass, provides a natural support for the bridge. Once called Boca de Flon to commemorate a Mexican governor, the pass was renamed "Deception" by Captain George Vancouver's expedition, which discovered it was not a closed harbor.—Photo by Glenn Dixon.

TAKING TRIPS OUT-OF-TOWN

We do hope that you have time to go places and do things around the Pacific Northwest before or after your Convention.

Seattleites, citizens of the Swinging Gateway City, are here to graciously provide a springboard for your journeys on vicinity tours.

From Seattle, you may take choices from wide array of vicinity tours and excursions which offer a whole new world of things to do. Many of these activities and attractions are so accessible (ski slopes just one hour away . . . dude ranches, two hours) that Seattle boasts of having the "Fastest Fun in the West."

Here are some recommended vicinity tours. Bon voyage! We'll always be happy to welcome you back to Seattle.

MT. RAINIER. The Northwest's most majestic spectacle, 14,410 feet, capped with 26 glaciers, offers recreation for camper, hunter, fisherman, wild-flower lover, hiker, mountain climber, camera fan, and skier. Entire area is a national park. Camp in the wilderness or stay at a luxurious inn. Guides and information service at park entrance. For advance information, write Rainier National Park Co., Box 1136, Tacoma, Wash., or call Seattle MU 2-2665. Daily sightseeing tours.

CASCADE RANGE. Breath-taking views from snow-capped summits, streams, waterfalls. Skiing, camping, hunting, fishing. Includes Mt. Rainier National Park and Mt. Baker National Forest. During winter, the area is alive with skiers. Ski experts say the Cascades, because of terrain and accessibility, offer the finest ski areas in the U.S. Eight major ski resorts. For information, call Seattle Visitors Bureau, MA 2-5022. Sightseeing tours available.

OLYMPIC PENINSULA. Enchanting variations of scenery and activities on this peninsula between Puget Sound and the Pacific Ocean, dominated by the rugged Olympic Mountains with their world-famous "rain forest." Loop highway follows the coastline. Side trips to Hurricane Ridge, ski area, Indian reservations, Hood Canal. Trail trips through Olympic National Park and Olympic National Forest. Lake, stream and salt water fishing available as are equipment and chartered boats. Sightseeing tours. Coast area ranges from rocky formations in north to smooth sandy beaches in the south, excellent for clam digging. Accommodations of all sizes and prices. For information, Olympic Peninsula Resort and Motel Assn., Box 150, Rt. 1, Seabeck, Wash., or Olympic Beaches division, Chamber of Commerce, Hoquiam, Wash.

SAN JUAN ISLANDS. An archipelago of 172 emerald-green islands rising out of a blue sea in Puget Sound and the Strait of Juan de Fuca. Four largest (Orcas, Lopez, San Juan and Shaw) are served by Washington State Ferries. Free campsites, resorts, ranging from modest to lavish, beach and woods, lake and salt water fishing. For information, call Washington State Ferries, MA 4-4755. Sightseeing tours.

EASTERN WASHINGTON. Dude ranch and pack trip country, hunting and fishing country, dry coulee country with the mightiest coulee of them all, Grand Coulee Dam.

Other vicinity tours from Seattle can take you to the Yakima and Wenatchee area, the state's orchard capitals; to the Tri-Cities area, site of Hanford atomic plant; to Spokane, capital of Washington's inland empire, to the wheatlands of eastern Washington and the rich farmlands of the Columbia Basin.

VICTORIA AND VANCOUVER, B.C. Travel "abroad" by going 100 miles north of Seattle to Canadian Border and Vancouver, B. C., or by ship to Victoria, B. C. on Vancouver Island.

One "out-of-town" adventure which Shriners will be enjoying will be a sightseeing trip and boat trip to Tillicum Village on Blake Island in Puget Sound.

Here they will enjoy an authentic Indian Salmon barbecue accompanied by authentic Indian entertainment, including age-old ritual and tribal dances and songs performed by the descendants of the natives who occupied the Puget Sound area long before the white man arrived.

A truly continental atmosphere awaits you at the Shops of All Nations in the International Bazaar. Thirty-five shops display items of authenticity as a representation of their respective countries. You'll find a little of everything from small trinkets to Tiffany glass lampshades and expensive furniture.

HOURS: Open daily from Noon to 8 p.m., Friday & Saturday until 9 p.m.

Travel to the Seattle Center from downtown and return via America's first public operated Monorail. Special 10c one-way monorail fare is available to all square dance conventioneers. Show your convention badge and ride for a dime.

The Hugger. Camaro SS Coupe with Rally Sport equipment.

What the younger generation's coming to.

The 1969 Camaro is closing the generation gap. Fast.

Some parents are even asking to borrow their kids' Camaros.

And some kids are actually letting them.

Camaro's secret is its Corvette accent. Standard bucket seats. V8's up to 325 horsepower. And Camaro's the only American car besides Corvette that offers 4-wheel disc brakes.

Camaro's got a lot more going for it, too. Like this SS version that comes with a big V8, power disc brakes, beefed-up suspension, a special floor shift and wide oval tires. And with the Rally Sport package, you've got the only sportster at its price with out-of-sight headlights.

But don't think for a minute that we won't sell you a Camaro if you're over thirty.

After all, it's not how young you are.

It's how old you aren't.

AWAY TO FAR HORIZONS

Used to be that Seattle was content to be known as Gateway to Alaska and the Orient. In maritime terms Seattle is just that, a busy seaport city which is both home port and port of call to the ships which ply the seven seas.

But new dimensions have been added and now Seattle is both the Swinging Gateway to America Northwest's array of travel and vacation adventure but, in a manner of speaking the "Winging Gateway to Alaska, Hawaii, the Far East, and Europe." For millions of air travelers annually enplane at Seattle-Tacoma International Airport bound for far horizons.

Fabled Alaska, of course, entices many with its own special brand of rugged fascinating experiences. To make your way to the 50th state, you can plan quick air tours from Seattle, book passage aboard ships or drive the picturesque Alcan Highway. Once in Alaska, hospitable Alaskans will guide you to enjoy in the manner of your own choosing—from "roughing it" to basking in sheer luxury.

Hawaii calls many to her shores with the enticements of luxurious surfside resorts, flowery beauty and soft skies—and Seattle is the northwestern gateway to your romantic Hawaiian interlude.

Does the exotic Far East lure you? From Seattle to the Far East is not so "far" any more when you take off from Seattle via jet plane on a non-stop flight.

Anyone for Europe, the British Isles, Scandinavia? Jet flights from Seattle — many non-stop — will take you up and set you down to live those unforgettable experiences you've dreamed about so long.

Logging Events Bring 'Showbiz' Into the Woods

The American flag unfurls in a brisk breeze as it is hoisted aloft on a steel cable between two eight-foot spar poles. Sunlight flashes on the blade of a double bitted axe as it is hurtled toward a bulls-eye thirty feet away. "Cork-booted" loggers in bright shirts and hard hats cheer as a be-spurred high climber reaches the top of a spar pole and rings the winning bell. Another logging festival is underway in Washington State.

They may call it a logging jubilee, a festival, or a loggerodeo, but the same thrill and excitement pervades each small community in the timbered country as the summer season rolls around. Logging shows, like western rodeos, include work-a-day chores as events on their programs. Champion high climbers, tree toppers and log fallers tour the "logger rodeo" circuit from British Columbia to California and from Washington to New York. The prize money is not enticing, but the thrills are many and the competition is keen.

One contest is a show stopper wherever it is conducted. Two contestants equipped with climbing spurs and belt climb two eighty-foot spar poles set in the middle of the arena. If it is a high climbing event the first to ring a bell set atop his pole is the winner, but if it is a tree topping event extra equipment is carried in the form of a coarse-toothed, short bucking saw with which the logger saws off a small portion of the top of the tree. Then the climbers return to the ground in great reckless leaps that bring the crowd to its feet again.

Other events include ax throwing contests where the contestant must hit a target at thirty feet, log rolling (or birling as it is termed) in a pond, line splicing (the art of intertwining two pieces of steel cable together to make one strong line), truck and trailer backing, and falling and bucking events, using both power and hand saws. Since power saws are used almost entirely in modern day logging the old time bucking saw for bucking a tree into log lengths has now become the unusual among the events.

Port of Seattle's Shilshole Bay Marina is a $10 million small boat haven just north of downtown Seattle. It has moorage for 1,500 craft of all sizes.

THE SPIRIT OF SHRINEDOM

The Shriners — or more correctly, Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine—is a Fraternal order that presently numbers almost 900,000 members located in 170 local Shrine Temples throughout North America and in Shrine Clubs around the World. It requires its members to be Masons, and also to have taken either Scottish or York Rite degrees.

Shrinedom was founded nearly 100 years ago—in 1872—in New York City by two men, Billy Florence an actor, and Dr. Walter M. Fleming. In those early years and for some time—the Shrine was known as "the playground of Masonry."

Shrinedom's leaders, however, realized their Fraternity needed a greater objective and in 1922, W. Freeland Kendrick launched the idea of sponsoring an organization that would do something for friendless, orphaned and crippled children.

The thought of doing something for friendless, orphaned and crippled children became popular with the members. This sparked one of the greatest humanitarian philanthropies of all time; namely, the Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children. On the application form for entrance to any one of the Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children, no question is ever asked as to race, creed or color.

To manage one hospital successfully is a highly technical job, yet the fun-loving Shriners of North America brought into existence 22 hospitals for indigent crippled children, and have managed them so successfully and pitched their whole program for crippled children upon such a high plane that millions of dollars have been given to its work by people who are not Shriners.

From this early concept, evolved what today is called "the World's Greatest Philanthropy," Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children. These "Temples of Mercy," presently numbering 22 for orthopedic and burns cases are strategically located through North America. Excellent care, top medical staffs, and the latest of hospital equipment feature the Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children, where free medical care is given patients from infant through age 15—regardless of race or creed.

Since the first hospital was opened in 1922 in Shreveport, La., more than 140,000 children have been treated and materially helped. Today, Shriners Hospitals have become a multi-million-dollar operation. The 1969 operational budget is $22,539,108.70. Shrinedom's recently-opened Burns Institutes in Boston, Cincinnati and Galveston, are recognized as being among the world's best centers for burns treatment.

Shrine Temples are located in every state (except Alaska,) and in Canada, Mexico and the Canal Zone. More than 2,500 Shrine Clubs around the World bring the work of the Fraternity to every small village and hamlet in the Country.

Nile Temple, one of the younger Temples, dates back to July 14, 1908 when a petition signed by 466 Nobles of the Mystic Shrine was presented to the Imperial Council Session in St. Paul, Minnesota. On July 15, 1905, dispensation was granted.

The first formal meeting of petitioners for Nile Temple was held in the Elks Hall, Alaska Building in Seattle on September 16, 1908. The first Ceremonial was held in the Moore Theatre December 2, 1908, with 122 Candidates and about 1,000 Nobles present.

Under the chosen title of "Nile Temple," a charter was granted at the Imperial Council Session on June 9, 1909 in Louisville, Kentucky—the largest Temple chartered in the history of the Order up to that time.

The famous slogan "Smile With Nile" was coined by the late Past Potentate John L. McLean, for the Imperial Council Session held in Seattle in 1915.

Today, Nile Temple is the 12th largest Temple in Shrinedom with 17 Shrine Clubs in Washington and nine in Alaska.

The Shriners have earned the reputation of being among the best citizens of their several countries. This is exemplified in fact that the history of our various wars reflect the information that Shriners promoted War Bond sales programs and did an outstanding job in this respect. They also took the lead in Civil Defense work in their communities. The Shriners who were of proper age gave their services to the Armed Forces of their countries and the history states that many of the outstanding military leaders were Shriners. The names on this glorious list include MacArthur, Wainwright, King, Doolittle.

The list of great statesmen of our country include names of Harding, Roosevelt, Truman and many others of our country's leaders. Canada has enjoyed distinction in this way through former Prime Minister Diefenbaker as a Noble.

Many of those who did not serve in the Armed Forces were called to serve their country in key positions as dollar-a-year men.

In fields other than military will be found the great leaders of business, financial, professional, scientific, arts and, in fact, all fields of endeavor find the names of many members of the Shrine well at the top of the list. The Shrine has truly been a great force in the lives of many great men.

The story of the Shrine is that of hundreds of thousands of men, Freemasons all, who join together to mix fellowship, pleasure, entertainment, good will and vast charity in a grand scale program of fraternal good works that truly earns for them the title of NOBLE.

Designed specifically for standby use, with all special requirements built-in. Standby power is electricity produced by your own generator for the sole purpose of operating essential lighting and electrical equipment during any interruption in the normal power supply. The electricity is the same as you get from your utility. It flows through existing wiring so lights and electrical equipment operate off their normal switches. During a power outage, standby power will keep in operation: Lighting at critical areas; as many elevators as needed; business machines; critical manufacturing processes; security systems; heating, ventilating and refrigeration equipment.

Ocean Shores For Family Fun

There's a saying that when you visit Washington, there are two things to see: The coast and the rest of the state. Although the interests of inland Washington are many and varied, it's the coast country which many people remember as really being Washington.

A visitor to Seattle is cheating himself if he doesn't see the Pacific. The closest beach front area to Seattle—The North Beach—is only two hours away by car, and it's known as one of the most picturesque and fascinating areas on the coast.

Drive south via Interstate Highway 5, west off the freeway at Olympia, through Aberdeen and on to the beach. That's all there is to it.

At Ocean Shores, even the clam diggers are glamorous.

The area known geographically as the North Beach stretches from Ocean Shores just north of the Grays Harbor entrance, northward to the Quinault Indian Reservation and the Olympic Peninsula. It's a land of natural beauty, contrast and most of all one of interest to the entire family.

The North Beach is made for memories . . . this is one of those rare sports where you can go from the luxury of a fine steak in a plush hotel to an empty beach and the sounds of gulls and sandpipers in minutes.

If you'd like, you can play golf on the lush 18 hole course at Ocean Shores. Or you can dig a clam.

Surf fishing from the beach is fruitful and free. There are wild strawberries, sea shells and driftwood yours for the taking, along with wild mushrooms, agates and some of the finest sunsets in the world.

Horseback riding on the beach or along nearby forest trails is a thrill for youngsters and the mere presence of the Pacific makes a playground with its use limited only to imagination.

Beachcombing is among the best in the world. Prizes may range from a Japanese glass fishing float to a canned tin of Russian vegetables. And bottled messages aren't fiction here. They really do come in with the tide.

Town Decks Out In Bavarian Dress

Tucked beneath the towering Cascade Mountains in the State of Washington is the small town of Leavenworth. A few years ago, in spite of its beautiful alpine setting, tourists gave it only a side glance in passing by along cross-state Highway Two, and if they stopped at all it was generally for a quick cup of coffee or a tankful of gasoline.

Today that picture has changed dramatically and the tourist who can pass Leavenworth by is rare indeed.

The reason for this change in attitude is the fact that Leavenworth has doffed its old and rather drab garb and donned the sparkling robes of an alpine village patterned after a typical Bavarian mountain community.

No longer do unpainted clapboard buildings greet the visitor as he tools his automobile or camper down ruggedly beautiful Tumwater Canyon at the base of Stevens Pass, or prepares to ascend the Cascades from the other direction. Now he sees instead a delightful panorama of brightly colored hostels, diminutive shops carefully styled in architectural patterns of the Old World, art displays in a small park fronting the buildings, and, in all likelihood, a German band performing outdoors with all the gusto of an alpine combo tooting away in a Bavarian bierkeller.

Today, with virtually all of Leavenworth's main street buildings done over in authentic Bavarian style of architecture, just about everyone who enters the city stops to prowl through gift shops like the Tannen Baum and the Alpen Hut, eat at a cafe in the Edelweiss Hotel, or just wander up and down the thoroughfare, cameras poised for just the right color shot.

Most people who stop at Leavenworth are also pleasantly surprised to find that they are in the center of some of the finest outdoor recreational areas in the Pacific Northwest. The town is the gateway, for instance, to the Icicle River, a trout-filled stream tumbling out of the Cascades and bordered with excellent camping areas; the Lake Wenatchee recreational region, featuring a deep blue lake ringed by resorts, a state park and U.S. Forestry campgrounds; and the high mountain country of the Cascades.

For the golfer, Leavenworth has an excellent nine-hole layout winding through age-old Ponderosa pine trees. Worth a visit, too, is the world's largest salmon hatchery, located on the Icicle River.

The birth of Leavenworth's alpine village motif came about because a group of townspeople decided that the time had come to reverse signs of decay brought about by the loss over the years of the town's principal industries: railroading and lumber manufacturing. There was opposition at first to the idea of an alpine village, but that soon melted in face of the spirited optimism on the part of a few key people. Once the first building donned a new facade—with the expert guidance of an architect direct from Bavaria—others quickly followed suit. A new spirit, too, came over most of the townspeople. And this spirit has carried over to today.

You'll find the welcome mat is not only out in Leavenworth today, but if you're not careful you might get caught up in the spirit of the place and find yourself looking around for a place to settle down.

Historic Sites Abound in State

From the fossilized woods of preglacial ages to the world of the atom and the future, and from the oxen and wagon of Ezra Meeker, Puget Sound Pioneer, to the living room of the house that witnessed the presence of General U.S. Grant, the traveler to the State of Washington is treated to a wide range of museums and historical sites that give an insight into the nature of the Pacific Northwest, its attitudes, history and growth.

These showcases of the heritage of the American Northwest make a fascinating platform on which to base a journey to discover America, and best of all for the family traveler, admission to virtually all of the museums and historic sites are free of charge.

On Interstate 5, at Olympia, the State Capitol, the visitor can, from 9 to 4 take a guided tour of the capitol building and grounds. Mighty, majestic and massive are but three adjectives describing the Legislative Building. Situated on a green carpeted knoll, the imposing structure, with its massive dome rising 287 feet from its base, stands as a silent sentry overlooking the city of Olympia.

Also in the Capital City, is located the State Capitol Historical Museum, with an outstanding collection of historical Washington, featuring displays such as the Communications Room, the Old Time Country Store, and the more recently added Forestry Room.

North 30 miles to Tacoma, you will want to visit the Washington State Historical Society Museum overlooking Puget Sound, near the Stadium Bowl. Here is featured one of the most complete collections of historic displays found in the state.

Another 30 miles north in Seattle, with its 26 galleries and museums. Notable among them are two: the Thomas Burke Memorial Washington State Museum, on the University of Washington Campus and the Museum of History and Industry.

Midway across the state, at Richland is an exhibit to the future. The Hanford Visitors' Center features colorful displays, models and ani-

Lake Chelan Is Mountain Jewel

The excursion boat, "Lady of the Lake," heads for Stehekin Landing at the north end of Lake Chelan in Washington's north Cascades.

Lake Chelan, a deep blue lake that winds its way 55 miles into the forested foothills of the Cascade Mountains in north-central Washington, and its surrounding areas, has become one of the prime vacation areas of the Pacific Northwest.

Reached via Highway 97 north from the nation's apple capital of Wenatchee, this area encompasses a wide variety of outdoor features, highlighted by a boat excursion the entire length of Lake Chelan.

Travelers will find excellent lakeshore motel accommodations at the town of Chelan at the southern terminus of the lake, plus trailer area, swimming beaches and an excellent golf course. For the camper, there is a scenic state park at 25-Mile-Creek on the shores of the lake with many campsites and trailer areas. And for those who like a truly outdoor flavor with their vacation, Lucerne and Stehekin on the upper reaches of the lake, accessible only by boat, offers primitive mountain areas to explore, crystal-clear streams to fish, rugged scenery to admire and camping spots to pitch the tent or roll out the sleeping bag. To those who prefer more modern comforts, rustic lodges provide excellent accommodations, and recreational activities.

For those whose time may be limited, a full-day excursion boat trip the entire length of Lake Chelan could well prove to be the highlight of a Pacific Northwest vacation.

Promptly at 8:30 each morning, in the summer months, the trim little motor vessel, "Lady of the Lake," chugs away from its landing at Chelan for the 55-mile trip up the lake, stopping at 25-Mile-Creek and Lucerne before docking at noon at Stehekin, in the heart of one of America's most scenic wonderlands.

From a glass-enclosed deck or a comfortable chair on the open deck, the visitor will witness a panorama of orchard-covered hillsides, rugged canyon walls and forested hillsides as the boat sails quietly up the long, fjord-like lake. As the ship approaches the upper end of the lake, rugged peaks of the Cascade range loom large and austere in the background.

Per person cost for a round-trip is $6.50. Lunch is served at one of the lodges at Stehekin before the return trip begins. The ship docks at its starting point around six o'clock in the evening. Campers are allowed 100 pounds of gear.

Whether it's just an exciting boat trip, a camping outing in the primitive Cascade Mountains near Stehekin, an exploration trip to the old mining town of Holden near Lucerne, or a relaxing time at the resort city of Chelan, the vacationer will find this area of the Evergreen State well worth the time it takes to turn off the main cross-state highway.

Mountain Pack Trip in Washington State

If camping beside a crystal clear lake amid towering snowcapped mountains—miles and miles from even a hint of civilization—appeals to you, then make it a point to vacation this summer in the Evergreen State of Washington.

Pack trips with everything furnished but sleeping bags and personal gear can easily be arranged to take you into America's most spectacularly beautiful and unspoiled mountains: the Cascade and Olympic mountain ranges.

You can take an overnight horseback trip into the mountains or spend as high as two weeks in some of the most remote wilderness areas in the world; it's up to you. Experienced guides will take you where your camera will capture unforgettable scenes on film; where you can catch fighting trout in cold mountain lakes and streams; hunt for elk, deer and bear; or just enjoy the exhilarating experience of camping out beneath the stars in a world of your own.

Pack trips can be made on an individual basis: you contact the packer and make arrangements; or you can join up with a group at mountain ranch headquarters for specific trips. Packers will supply everything including a cook if you so desire, or you can "go on your own."

Areas covered by licensed packers and guides include the wild and rugged Olympic Mountains, the North Cascades Wilderness area, the Cascade Crest Trail, Mount St. Helens region with its lava caves and tubes; the fabulous Goat Rocks region south of Packwood in the Cascades, Mount Baker, Glacier Peak and Mount Rainier areas, the upper Chelan mountain country; the Blue Mountains, Menastach Canyon and all national forests and parks. Trips by pack horse can be arranged, of course, to any specified region.

There is one thing to remember when planning for a pack trip into Washington's mountain country; get your reservations in early. Packers often are booked well in advance.

What's the best time for packing into the mountains? Though some trips are made as early as May and June, normally July through September is your best bet as snow has then receded from mountain meadows, fishing in high mountain lakes is open, and the countryside is ablaze with flowers. Hunters must figure on the fall months when the season is open for deer and elk.

For a list of packers and guides in Washington State, write to Tourist Promotion Division, Department of Commerce and Economic Development, General Administration Building, Olympia, Washington 98501.

Let us stick our knows in your business

We know a little something about your business. We know that just taking care of it takes most of your time; that you hate to spend any of it worrying about business insurance problems.

We know the insurance business. And we know that—because your business is not quite like any other—your coverage must be individually tailored. That it must be flexible, multi-peril coverage—a complete roof of planned protection.

We know how to design one. One uncluttered, uncomplicated, custom-built package. One low-cost package that saves you money because it gives you only what you need. And no more.

We know something else. That really, for you, the whole insurance bit is somewhat of a problem. Talk to your Safeco agent. Making it less of a problem is his bag.

Parking on most thoroughfares prohibited 7-9 am to 4-6 pm. Watch for signs or a tow-away ticket at $11.45 (Incl. Tax).

Every other St. is cleaned every other nite. It's $11.45 again if you're in the way.

You're ticketed if you don't turn your wheels to the curb on a hill. Runaway cars make mayhem.

Free right turns. If the guy behind you honks you should be turning right on "red."

Keys in your ignition? No! Or a ticket.

Crosswalks. It is not permitted to hit a pedestrian in a cross walk. We mean it!

Parking Meters. Aluminum: 2 or 4 hrs. Green ½ hr. Yellow 15 min. 5c for each ½ hr. or 15 min.

Jaywalking. We're serious about it. Fine $10 or 1 hr. safety course. Your choice.

Green lights in center may not be for pedestrians. Look for corner "walk" signals.

Traffic fines. $5 more if not paid in 7 days.

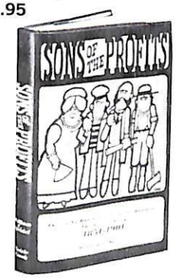
The "UNSTUFFY" Seattle History:

SONS OF THE PROFITS
by Bill Speidel
$8.95



This is the lively book on early Seattle that not only rattles the skeletons in our historical closet—it reaches right in and tickles their funnybones. It's an authentic, yet lusty and often irreverent, look at the hallowed and not-so-hallowed folks that founded our city (and their own bank accounts). Highly entertaining reading for anyone!

mated exhibits which illustrate the exciting role played by Hanford in the development of atomic energy for defense and for peace.

From the 20th century to pre-historic times is just a short jump, museum-wise.

About 30 miles east of Ellensburg, on U.S. Highway 10, at Vantage, is the Ginkgo Petrified Forest Museum. More than 200 species of trees which once grew in the area have been found there.

In Washington's second city, Spokane, is the Grace Campbell Memorial Museum, featuring a fine display of pioneer relics, Indian arts and crafts, geology and native birds of the Pacific Northwest.

Nearby at Gonzaga University is the new Bing Crosby Library. In the Crosbyana Room are the famous crooner's many gold records and awards, and the Oscar he won for his part in the movie "Going My Way."

Another group of interest points well worth a visitor's stop are the several historical sites throughout the state. Among them Fort Vancouver, site of a Hudson's Bay Company trading post, established in 1825, and Whitman Mission National Historical Site, located near Walla Walla.

All in all there are more than 60 museums and 33 historical sites in the State. Each preserving or commemorating some part of Washington's history. For brochures and information about museums and historical sites, write the Visitor Information Bureau, General Administration Building, Olympia, Washington 98501.

Hotel De Haro in San Juan Islands is a former Hudson's Bay Trading Post and is typical of many historical buildings.

IN THE CENTER OF THINGS

Seattle put on a World's Fair in 1962 which won wide applause, brought the Puget Sound city into the world spotlight, and—it was planned that way—left to the community and region the splendid complex of facilities which make up the Seattle Center.

Seattle Center's facilities and attractions are placed in harmonious relationships on a beautifully landscaped 74-acre campus. The Center is many things to many people—a convention center to thousands upon thousands of delegates; the focal center for music, art, entertainment, recreation for the community and the region.

Features and highlights of Seattle Center include:

MONORAIL. America's first public operated monorail, a "horizontal elevator" linking downtown Seattle hotels and restaurants to the Seattle Center. Fare, 25 cents one way. Children under 12 free. Downtown terminal, Westlake Mall, between 4th and 5th Avenues. Center terminal at base of Space Needle. Hours: Monday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to midnight. Sunday 'til 10 p.m. Lunch-time special, summer season only, 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., fare 10 cents each way, adults and children.

Graceful "space-gothic" arches of the Pacific Science Center, spectacular focal point of Seattle Center, Shrine convention complex.

SPACE NEEDLE. 607-foot tower of steel, topped by a spacious restaurant which revolves once every hour to provide diners with unparalleled view of city. Ride in windowed elevator to observation deck or restaurant, 9 a.m. to midnight. Elevator, $1 adults, 50 cents children and servicemen. Illuminated at night, topped by flaming gas torch. Restaurant 11 a.m. to midnight (Monday-Saturday); 9 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Sunday.

INTERNATIONAL FOUNTAIN. Largest and most elaborate of 15 fountains gracing the Seattle Center. 230 jets of water arch 100 feet high in constantly changing pattern to accompaniment of tape music and colored lighting.

OPERA HOUSE. Home of the Seattle Opera Association and Seattle Symphony Orchestra in season and busy year 'round with packed schedule of events, including stage productions, nationally famed ballets, artists and concerts, contemporary and traditional. Seats 3,100.

SEATTLE CENTER COLISEUM. Vast glass-walled building for sports events, spectaculars, shows, ice hockey and basketball, rallies and other heavily-attended events. Seating capacity 15,000. This facility is the home of the professional Totem Hockey Club and the Supersonics Basketball Team.

SEATTLE CENTER PLAYHOUSE. Intimate theater, seating 800, houses concerts, recitals, lectures. Home scene of productions of nationally acclaimed Seattle Repertory Theatre Company.

SEATTLE CENTER ARENA. Seats 5,000 "in the round," serves as ice rink and alternate for basketball, hockey and ice shows. Also, showcase EXHIBITION HALL-DISPLAY HALL. Two large, well-lighted areas serving as banquet, convention and trade-show facilities.

PACIFIC SCIENCE CENTER. More than 100 exhibits divided into "worlds of science" plus a "Spacearium" and scheduled film showings. Phone MA 4-8140 for current hours, schedules. Admission $1 adults, 50 cents children, $2 family.

SPECIAL SUMMER SEASON ATTRACTIONS include the Fun Forest amusement park, international shops and foods in the Food Circus and International Bazaar, the Hall of Fire Engines with the largest west coast collection of antique fire apparatus. Seattle's role in the history of flight is portrayed in the Hall of Aviation. Hundreds of free special events are scheduled for the Center visitor's enjoyment during this season which vary from flower shows, square dances, outdoor folksinging, music in the park concerts, ethnic festivals, trade exhibitions, outdoor art shows to name just a few. Current information on Center activities and attractions during this season can be obtained at the Safeco Information Centers, adjoining both Monorail terminals, or for year 'round information phone 583-2900, seven days a week. Admission to Seattle Center grounds is free.

Children under 15 years of age—regardless of race or religion—whose parents or guardians are unable to pay for treatment.

Special equipment and facilities enable the staff to provide superior care for severely burned patients. Patients are under visual observation at all times and electronic monitoring devices attached to a patient under intensive care transmit heart beat, temperature, blood pressure and respiration to a central station. Special beds facilitate handling patients when necessary. Laboratory teams will constantly evaluate the patient's condition. The research program studies ways to improve the treatment of all types of burns.

The most urgent need is for blood donors. A Shriner and his friends can donate blood for use in a Shriners Burns Institute through any hospital that is a member of the American Association of Blood Banks accreditation program.

The World's Best Salmon Fishing

The Pacific Ocean may look like an unlimited expanse of open water when you are in a boat off the shores of Washington State. But you will be glad you have all that water when you hook into a fighting Chinook or Coho salmon.

More salmon are caught here by sports anglers than any place in the world. Last year over a million were netted by some 450,000 anglers, for an average of 2.2 salmon each.

This is always good news to the vacationer whether he's an experienced fisherman or someone whose only contact with a salmon has been from a can. There's not only a lot of excitement connected with landing these fish, but they can transform any meal into a delightful repast. If you wish, your salmon can be shipped home fresh, or you can have it canned or smoked locally.

And you don't have to bother packing up the fishing gear if your destination is one of Washington's many fine salmon fishing resorts. Tackle and bait are included in the price of a fishing trip on a charter boat (the average price runs about $18 per day).

Popular ports at Ilwaco, near the mouth of the Columbia River; Westport and Ocean Shores, at the entrance to Grays Harbor; La Push on the Olympic Peninsula, and Neah Bay, Sekiu, Port Angeles and Port Townsend on the Strait of Juan de Fuca, not only have sizable charter boat fleets, but you'll also find good accommodations (always best to get reservations). For the camper or trailer owner, there are state and federal parks scattered along the coast.

Another nice thing about salmon fishing is that the runs occur from May through September.

YOUR TABLE IS READY, SIR!

restaurants are all set to offer you a gourmet's world tour without leaving town. For Seattle is a city of many nationalities, offering a myriad of national cuisines. In Seattle's restaurants you can enjoy Greek roast lamb, Swedish pancakes with lingonberries, Danish Smorgasbord, Japanese sukiyaki, Chinese snow peas, Italian fettucini, Russian borstch, Polynesian roast pork, Kosher corn beef, Peruvian shrimp soup, Irish soda bread, French onion soup, German pot roast and potato pancakes, Spanish Arroz con pollo—and that's just a few samples.

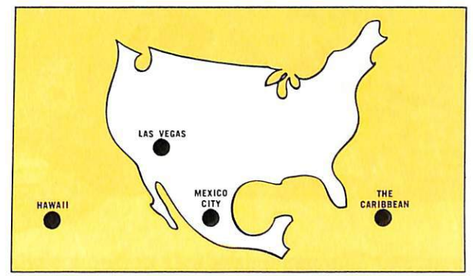
Here, you'll also discover truly fine "American style" eating. There are restaurants in basements and at the tops of hotels, in alleys and in old mansions, on boats and at piers. There are self-service cafeterias, outdoor cafes and elegant formal dining rooms. Thirty-six kinds of seafood are landed in Seattle. You should sample such delicacies as Dungeness crab, King salmon, Willapa oysters, Puget Sound shrimp or butter clams. Almost every restaurant has special ways of preparing seafood right down to crab-burgers, shrimp-burgers and clam-burgers. Eating out is part of the adventure of Seattle—yours to enjoy for less than a dollar at some places or for more than ten dollars at others, depending on your mood and your pocketbook.

Standard Airways is for groups going places.

We call our group charters "Group-Hops." It means exactly what it says. We pick your group up here, set them down there. Directly, and in style on either a fanjet Boeing 707 or, on shorter range flights, a Convair 440.

It costs a lot less than ordinary air economy travel. That's what makes Group-Hops so special. Take New York to the Grand Bahamas, for example. The average fare per person is only $73.00.* Philadelphia to Las Vegas, just $124.00.* Chicago to Hawaii, only $223.00.* Toronto to Mexico just $142.00*

Got a group going places? Treat them to a Group-Hop. For details contact your travel agent or your nearest Standard Airways office. Or ask the first man you see in a rabbit suit.



*All fares quoted include tax for Canadian cities where they apply. Prices are quoted in U.S. Dollars. Typical per person rates based on full 160 passenger plane load on back-to-back basis.

As defined by CAB regulations.

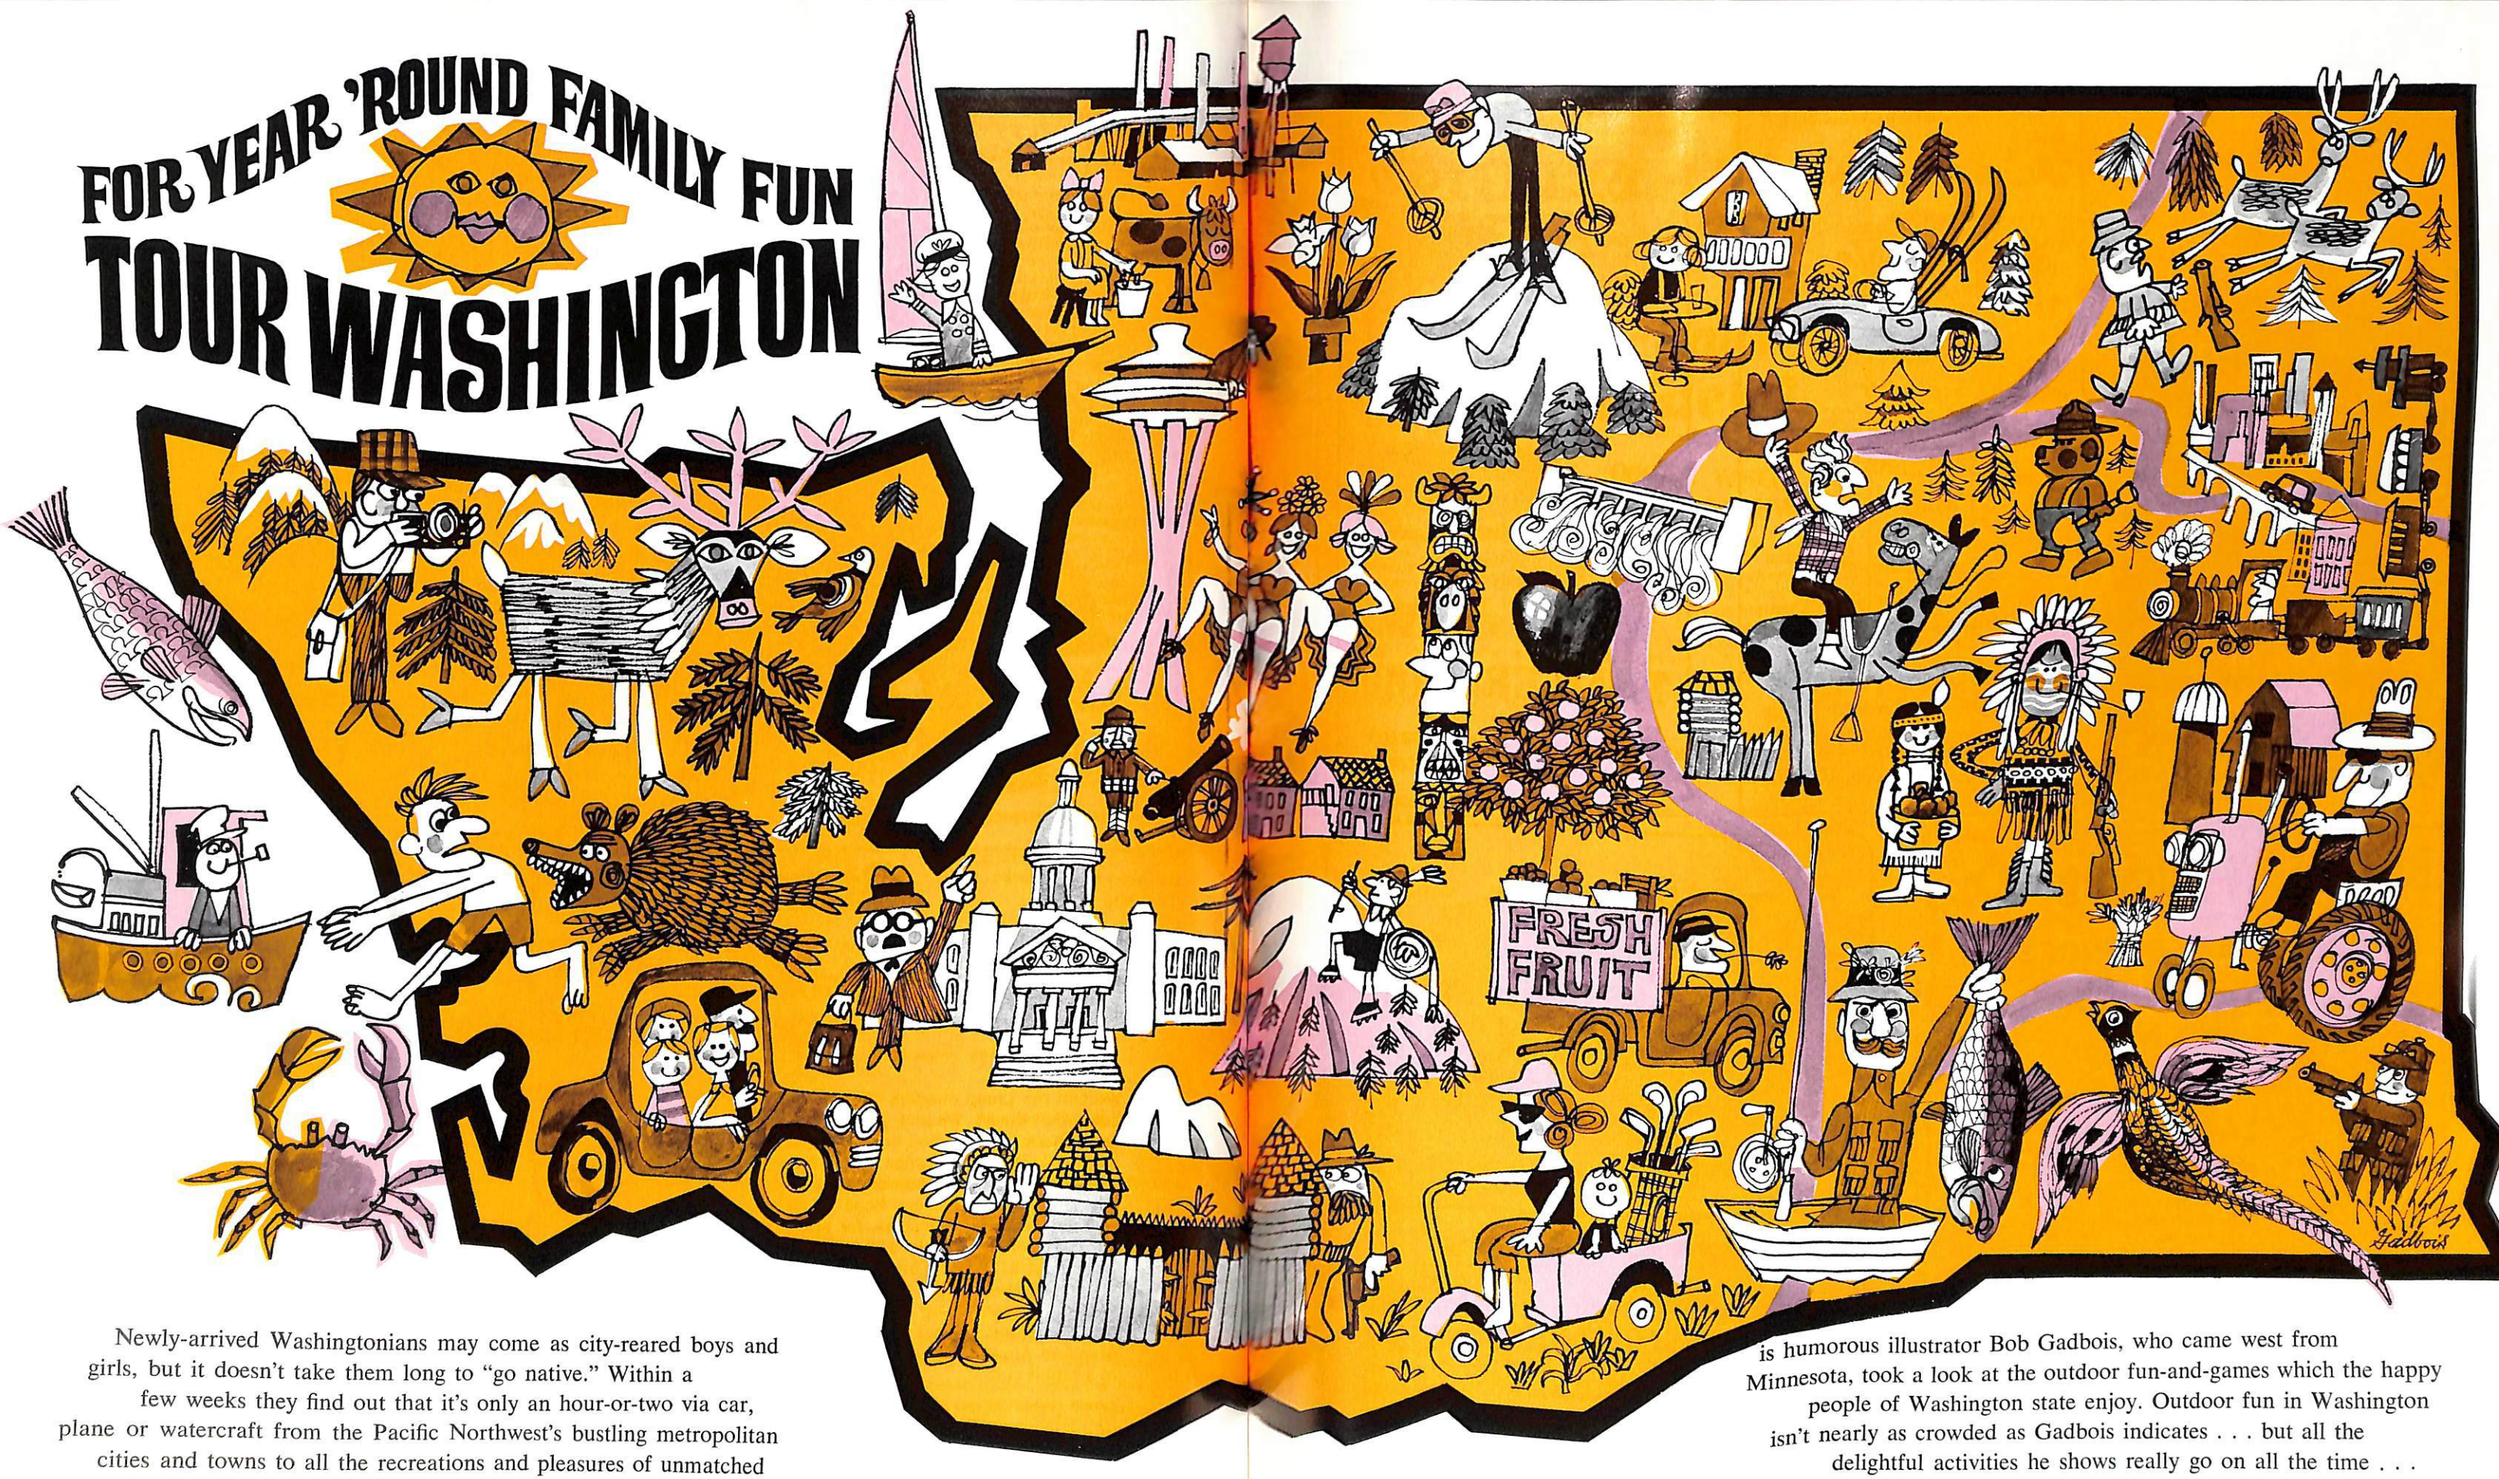
FOR YEAR 'ROUND FAMILY FUN
TOUR WASHINGTON



Newly-arrived Washingtonians may come as city-reared boys and girls, but it doesn't take them long to "go native." Within a few weeks they find out that it's only an hour-or-two via car, plane or watercraft from the Pacific Northwest's bustling metropolitan cities and towns to all the recreations and pleasures of unmatched salt-and-fresh waterways, majestic mountains, forest glades, rangelands, wheatlands, trails and byways. A good example is humorous illustrator Bob Gadbois, who came west from Minnesota, took a look at the outdoor fun-and-games which the happy people of Washington state enjoy. Outdoor fun in Washington isn't nearly as crowded as Gadbois indicates . . . but all the delightful activities he shows really go on all the time . . . all over the Evergreen state (shown above in inappropriate orange).

For the Shriner's Special Lady:

Think for just a moment of what a fine fur means to that one Special Lady in your life. Of course, fur has its own unexplainable magic — an attraction which only a woman really understands and feels. But think of the other things it can be to her. The realization of a long-time dream which she probably recognized had to remain a dream, at least for a while, perhaps for a long while. The proof, in a way which beggars mere words, of your appreciation and admiration of her. And your love. The pride and warmth she'll feel, wrapped in this perfect gift that shows the world — and, much more importantly, shows her — how much you care.

Gordon's Custom Furriers of Seattle and David Green Furs of Anchorage, Alaska, have joined ranks to offer you the opportunity to reward your Special Lady with the ultimate expression of your feeling toward her. At a price to you, as a Shriner, far below that of the luxury fur salons. And of a quality far above.

Gordon Bristol and David Green are master furriers whose personal experience in making fine fur garments totals over 100 years. Their family traditions of American and Austrian craftsmanship have been handed down over centuries.

When you tour Seattle's picturesque waterfront, plan a visit to the nearby Fur Center in the National Building, at the corner of Western Avenue and Madison Street, one block from the Ferry Terminal. Admission only by presentation of your Shrine membership card.

See how Gordon Bristol and David Green create their garments from start to finish. Visit the adjacent Fur Auction and Exchange where raw furs are graded, examined, and bought: rare Sea Otter, Beaver, Mink in all its rich and subtle variations, non-domestic furs, and many others. Next, inspect the factory, right on the premises, and see how the skins are matched, cut, shaped, and custom-tailored into beautiful coats, capes, jackets, stoles, and scarves in a wide array of classic and current styles.

Then, have a private showing for your Special Lady of the furs which match her heart's desire. And, should you decide that this is what you want for her, you'll know that you're giving something of lasting value at a cost which can't be matched anywhere.

Make an appointment for yourself and for her by calling MAin 3-4274. And one more thing: welcome, fellow Shriner, to our City by the Sound.

FISHING'S FUN IN WASHINGTON

Nowhere in the country can the angler find a greater variety of places to fish and in an area so completely dominated by scenic beauty than in Washington state's great outdoor paradise.

Devotees of fresh water angling in Washington find it often difficult to decide where to go. They have a choice of heading for some remote mountain stream for a mess of fighting rainbow trout that lurk in the clear, fast-moving waters; a forested lake for big "lunkers"; lowland rivers where Searun cutthroat and scrappy steelheads up to 20 pounds migrate annually, or some placid lily pad fringed lake where bass, perch, crappie and catfish abound.

And for those looking for the thrill of a lifetime, hooking into a silver-sided salmon in one of Washington's coastal rivers is an event that will not long be forgotten.

The best bet during the summer months are the high lakes and streams where cold waters keep trout frisky and a diminishing supply of feed make them extra hungry.

Non-resident fishing license for a seven-day period is $4. For the season, the fee is $15. No license is required in national forests or parks, as in salt water fishing, but state regulations do apply. Fishermen first should check state regulations for closed areas, bag limits and other restrictions. It also is wise to check first for possible area closures due to fire hazards in the summer time.

Coulee Country Offers Contrasts

Visitors to Washington State this year will get a ringside seat at a massive construction project which is destined once again to make Grand Coulee Dam the largest hydroelectric power project in the world.

Contractors actually have removed a section of the dam to make way for a new powerhouse so large that the first half of it will nearly treble the generating capacity of the project (from 1,974,000 kilowatts to 5,670,000 kilowatts). The first stage of the expansion program will not be completed until 1973.

The National Park Service will erect bleachers for sidewalk superintendents at a temporary visitors' center on the left bank of the Columbia River just below the dam. Guided tours also will be conducted through older parts of the project.

The Washington State Tourist Promotion Division points out that there are a lot of other things to see in the Grand Coulee country, which is an ideal area to visit in late spring or early summer.

The Grand Coulee is a mile-wide canyon fifty miles long formed when an ice jam clogged the main channel of the Columbia River eons ago. Water from ice age glaciers rushed over an extensive lava plateau, carving out a series of gigantic waterfalls. The greatest of these is the central feature of Dry Falls State Park, which is one of the most popular tourist attractions in Washington State.

The park is built around a chain of beautiful fresh water lakes well stocked with rainbow trout. In addition to the usual state park amenities, there is a nine-hole golf course, riding stables, rental cabins, boat launching ramps and mooring docks, a trailer campground and riding and hiking trails.

ONE OF AMERICA'S GREAT SKIING AREAS

Washington State, blessed with two mountain ranges, covered with clean, white snow for much of the year, is now one of the prime skiing areas in the United States.

With such natural endowments it is only natural that the Evergreen State today boasts no less than 18 public and three private ski courses and is planning more.

One of the principal reasons for the state's popularity of skiing is the fact that Washington can claim one of the longest ski seasons in the nation. From November to as late as July, ski enthusiasts, whether they be weekend novices, or expert professionals, may try their luck on runs that range from gentle slopes to those requiring precision and skill.

Although late Spring to mid-Summer skiing is possible, the principal season runs from November to early April, when the best "powder snow" conditions exist. It is then that the residents from the four corners of the state, join with visitors from across the nation, as well as Canada and abroad take to the slopes for the most healthful and invigorating of participation sports.

With constant activity to enlarge and improve facilities, a survey of each resort's capacity is always behind the times.

Because of their proximity to the population centers of the state, the largest and most popular ski resorts are those located in the Cascades.

COULEE COUNTRY

Between Dry Falls and Grand Coulee Dam is Banks Lake, a reservoir 26 miles long which supplies irrigation water to the vast Columbia Basin project. Banks is open to year around fishing for trout, perch, large mouth bass, ling cod and kokanee salmon, and there is bow hunting for carp in shallow parts of the lake during the month of June. A boat launching ramp and camping for tents and trailers are provided at Steamboat Rock State Park.

A few miles to the south on State Highway 17 lies Lenore Lake, the site of a future state park. A paved road leads to the base of a cliff beneath several caves used by prehistoric residents who roamed the Grand Coulee country.

For Art Lovers

The Seattle Art Museum is unique in the fact that it runs two plants which generally change exhibitions almost monthly.

The Museum itself, sits in Volunteer Park on Capitol Hill, overlooking the city and Elliott Bay. It is world famous for the quality and inclusiveness of its Asiatic Art Collections which are featured in exhibitions every summer since visitors from many places visit Seattle specifically to see it.

Always on view is the fabulous Jade Collection, which ranges from archaic jades to the 18th century. Each work has been selected for its refinement aesthetically and in workmanship.

Early European paintings and sculpture are on view in the Samuel H. Kress Collection and sculpture, coins, ceramics and jewelry in the Norman Davis Collection of classic art on the lower level.

Installation will be made of 101 Primitive Watercolors and Pastels—witty, delightful grass roots paintings by genre artists who painted early inhabitants and scenes of our country when it was young. This nostalgic exhibition of portraits, wedding and parade scenes, fraktur work, still life, memorial paintings and certificates of excellence, has been chosen from the eminent Edgar William and Bernice Chrysler Garbish Collection.

This officially opens July 3. Also showing will be part of the Museum's large collection of works by Northwest artists, some of whom have achieved national and international fame, such as Mark Tobey, Morris Graves, Paul Horiuchi, Kenneth Callahan.

The Seattle Art Museum hours are: Week days (closed Mondays) 10 a.m.-5 p.m.; Sundays and Holidays, noon-5 p.m.; Thursday evening 7 p.m.-10.

Seattle Art Museum Pavilion hours: Fridays 10 a.m.-9 p.m.; Sundays, noon-5; all other days 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Closed Mondays.

Seattle Art Museum Docents will be on hand at each institution daily at 2 o'clock during the Shrine Convention, available for tours. All is free.

Popular with sightseers and shoppers is the colorful Pike Place Market, open air stalls in heart of downtown Seattle.

City's internationally famed Seattle Symphony presents regular concerts in the luxurious Seattle Center Opera House.

Seattle's oriental community offers summer-long festivals of events including authentic Chinese dragon dances.

Seattle is called the "small boat capital of the world." No wonder! One out of every four families in the state, and the biggest percentage of these are in the Puget Sound area, own a pleasure boat of some kind. Owners of sailboats, cabin cruisers, small outboards, whatever the preference, are only minutes away from the finest boating waters in the world.

Dungeness crab. In Washington we say "When the tide is out the table is set"

Pioneer founders of Seattle had a saying, "When the tide's out, the table's set!" It meant, simply, that a wonderful variety of fish and shellfish in the fresh and saltwater areas of Puget Sound was available just for the taking. It's still that easy to catch a salmon, dig for clams or snare crabs. Or, for the visitor who has the appetite, but not the time to do-it-yourself, Seattle's restaurants offer an unending variety of delicacies from the seas, freshly-caught, freshly-cooked and appetizingly prepared. Most restaurants have favorite seafoods dishes on the menu. Some restaurants specialize in this fare and little else. Whatever your final choice on the menu, when it comes to seafood, Seattle's table is set and waiting for you.

Carling Brewing Company, Tacoma, Washington

One of the few beers in the U.S. still brewed the way most of the world's fine premium beers are brewed. Slowly. By a longer, more costly process that allows the naturally light, clear, fresh taste to come through perfectly. Smoothly. Every time.

A Message to Our Readers

The official publication of the 95th Imperial Council Session, Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine of North America would not have been possible without the interest and support of our advertisers.

We, therefore, strongly urge Nobles and their ladies to patronize these local advertisers and let them know that we are most grateful to them for their support of this program.

And we further extend to our advertisers an official message of thanks from the Imperial Council, from the local committees and from the thousands of delegates attending this council session.

Their tangible expression of faith and good will in the Shrine and its precepts is sincerely appreciated.

Come take a free taste tour of our 3 beers.

Just hop aboard one of our courtesy buses Monday, June 30, Wednesday, July 2 or Thursday, July 3. (They leave every 30 minutes between 9:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. from the Olympic Hotel.)

We'll be delighted to show you how Washington's favorite 3 beers are brewed. And after the tour is over we'll give you a chance to decide which of the 3 best fits your idea of what a really fine light beer should be.

Light-Light, a subtle, delicate beer for light-hearted tastes. Light, a mild, traditional beer. Or Not-So-Light, beer as beer used to be, with a rich, natural, old-time flavor.

So come. Everything's on the house. (Including free parking if you drive your own car.) And it'll certainly give you 3 good things to write home about.

Rainier. The "3 beer" company.
